

The Colombian College of Psychologists – Colpsic expresses its solidarity with the Ukrainian people.

Bogotá, D.C March 2, 2022

In the last week, the world has witnessed hostile activities between Russia and Ukraine that involve civilians regardless of their position in this conflict.

We express our solidarity with The National Psychological Association of Ukraine, with all the Ukrainian psychologists, and from other nationalities working in that country. We know about your courage and dedication to serving humanity.

It will not be easy to face the symptoms of conflict and post-conflict as depression, post-traumatic stress, feelings of hatred, anguish, anxiety, despair, psychosis, among others. Count on our help, from now on, to assist those affected in one way or another.

In addition, the Colombian College of Psychologists deeply regrets the human losses, calls for peace, rejects this war and any military confrontation, and prays for the prompt cessation of hostile actions.
